

Who were the Ancient Maya?

Where did they live?

What was life like for them?

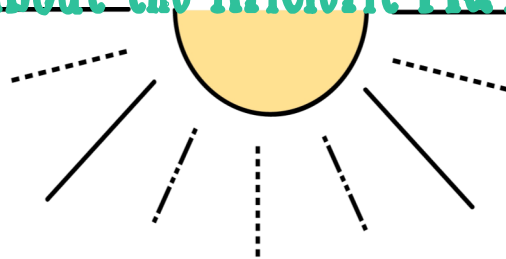

The second page is the inside of this page. You do not have to use the top part of the inside second page. If your child prefers to draw his own picture for the top inside, then just cut that part off and use the text boxes. If not, then glue the whole page inside this page. Note: Be sure before you glue inside page that the correct side is up on the title page so when both pages fold they are the same direction. {in other words not one page upside down}

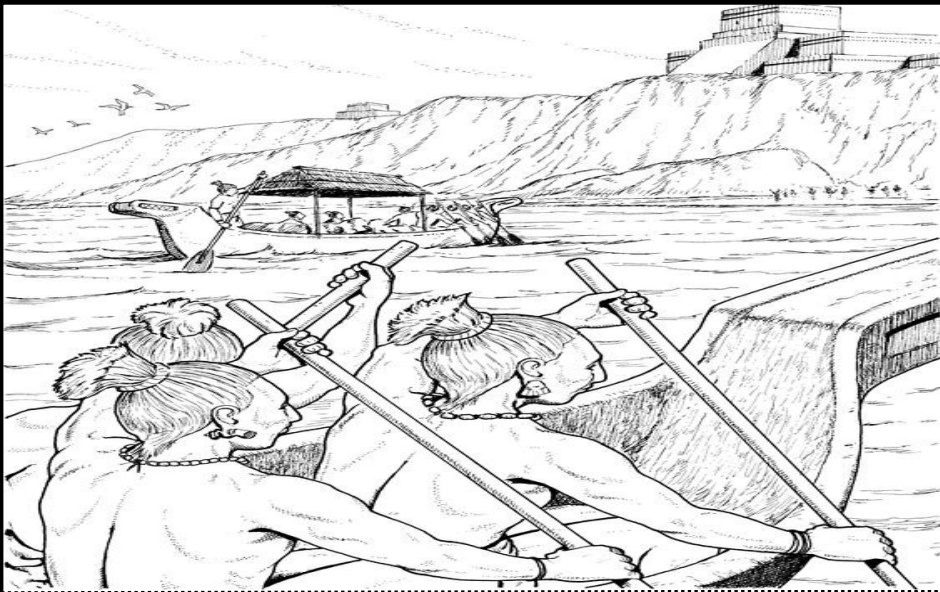

OR do not use the second page at all and only print of this page and use it. You have choices.

Trifold on dotted lines, cut solid black lines between tabs then glue this part to your page.

About the Ancient Maya

A large section of the page containing three vertical columns of horizontal dotted lines for writing.